1.0 Purpose

This Policy is intended to provide ticketing agents with supplementary information (including important definitions and ticketing principles) relating to Virgin Australia (VA) Domestic and International fares issued on (795) ticket stock on or after 31 March 2025. This Policy should be read and applied in conjunction with the fare rules of the relevant VA branded fare. Version 2.1 of this Policy supersedes version 2 dated APR 24.

This Policy does not apply in relation to involuntary schedule changes. For information relating to involuntary schedule changes, please refer to the Schedule Change Policy.

2.0 General Booking Guidelines

2.1 Fare Brands

Branded fares are fares that are differentiated beyond just the price, by being paired with other features such as seat assignment, checked baggage, ticket refundability etc. Branded fares allow VA to group and name fare families and fare types such as Economy Lite, Economy Choice, Economy Flex and Business.

Virgin Australia recommends that Branded fares is used for shopping VA's products.

Fare rules that govern the use of Branded fares are published in ATPCo and are available to view in the GDS or Sabre host. These rules must be adhered to and can only be waived by an authorised VA employee. Failure to adhere to the applicable fare rules may result in an ADM.

2.2 Most restrictive fare rules

When different fare brands are combined, some fare rule categories will apply the most restrictive fare rules to all fare components of a booking. (e.g. if the rule on the first fare component allows a maximum stay of 60 days and the second fare component allows only 30 days, the most restrictive fare rule will apply, which means the maximum stay for all fare components is 30 days).

The categories of fare rules which will apply the "most restrictive" fare rules to all fare components are as follows:

- 1 - Eligibility
- 5 - Advance Reservations/Ticketing
- 6 - Minimum Stay
- 7 - Maximum Stay
- 8 - Stopovers
- 10 - Combinations
- 13 - Accompanying Travel
- 14 - Travel Restrictions
- 15 - Sales Restrictions
- 16 - Penalties
- (further dependencies on fare construction and change scenario - please see table 1.1)
- 18 - Ticket Endorsement
- 20 - Tour Conductor Discount
- 21 - Sales Agent Discount

22 - Other Discounts
23 - Miscellaneous Tag

Table 1.1 Most restrictive rules and how it relates to change & cancellation fees where more than one fare brand exists on the ticket. The table below applies to all Virgin Australia fares issued on 795 ticket stock.

Scenario	Domestic VA marketed/and or operated	International VA marketed/and or operated
	Return or multi city	Return, Multi city, end on end combinations with a VA fare
Guest changes only one fare component	Apply the change fee of changed fare component only [single fee]	Apply the highest change fee for all unflown fare components [single fee]
Guest changes more than one fare component	Apply the highest change fee for all changed fare components [single fee]	Apply the highest change fee for all unflown fare components [single fee]
Guest cancels only one fare component	Apply the cancel fee of the cancelled fare component [single fee]	Apply the highest cancel fee and most restrictive fare conditions for all fare components [single fee]

Guest changes name [transfer of guest]	Apply the fee of the most restrictive fare of all applicable fare components [single fee]	Not Permitted

2.3 Booking ownership

This section refers to the booking ownership and when VA will take over ownership of a third party booking to assist the guest with changes and/or cancellations.

Booking channel	Booking Ownership	VA Responsibility
GDS [Third party agents]	GDS [Third party agents]	VA will refer guest to third party agent, except in the following situations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The guest is calling on the day of departure • The guest is calling outside agency business hours and is scheduled to travel before the next business day • The journey has commenced for international itineraries sold from Australia • The journey has commenced for any itinerary sold outside of Australia
HOST [B2C and B2B website]	VA	VA is responsible for all interactions with a guest

2.4 Reservation system abuse

Reservation system abuse is not permitted by VA and may result in the reservation being cancelled and/or an ADM being issued. Please refer to the GDS Booking Policy for more information and examples of system abuse

2.5 Out of system range

At time of original ticket issue, if the inbound date is outside system range but inside maximum stay (i.e. +331 days), please confirm an alternative inbound date that is within system range, so the fare can be issued as per fare rules.

Once the return date is within system range, please book the actual return date. VA will waive the applicable change fee only if the same route is maintained. For Direct & GDS Third party bookings, a waiver code must be present at time of reissue, so please contact Industry Support to request the applicable waiver code. Please note that any fare and tax difference must be collected.

3.0 General Ticketing Guidelines

3.1 Ticketing Deadlines

Failure to issue a ticket before the ticketing deadline provided in the PNR will result in the reservation being cancelled. If the guest needs to change their booking this will need to be done subject to availability at time the change is actioned. The original fare will not be reinstated. Should the itinerary contain different fare brands, the ticketing deadline of the most restrictive fare brand will apply.

3.2 Change fee, cancellation fee & No-show Penalty

Circumstances where guests are required to pay change and cancellation fees are set out in the relevant fare rules. Change and Cancellation fees are non-refundable, unless the guest is entitled to a refund of these fees under the Australian Consumer Law. These fees may be applicable each time the guest changes and/or cancels a booking as outlined by the fare rules of the ticketed fare.

A No-show penalty applies when a guest fails to cancel their flight reservation before departure. The No-show penalty may be a fee or may be considered forfeit of fare, depending on the fare rules of the ticketed fare.

3.3 Voluntary Change Guidelines

- Refer to fare rules to ascertain if a change fee is applicable
- Rebook guest on the new flight based on the inventory available at the time of the rebook
- Reprice the new itinerary ensuring the correct reissue/exchange principles are used as per section 3.3.1 and 3.3.2
- Exchange ticket and ensure the fare difference, tax difference and applicable change fee (if any) are collected.

Please note:

- All tickets must be exchanged/reissued if there is any fare increase, change to the fare component/s, change of pax type and/or a change fee to be collected.
- Revalidation is only permitted if there has been no change to the base fare, fare component and the Fare Brand is Flex or Business Class. All other Fare Brands must be exchanged/reissued.
- Exchanges/Reissues from a private or public commissionable fare to a private or public non-commissionable net fare are not permitted.
- Historic fares are those fares that were valid at the time of the original ticket purchase [Reissue]
- Current fares are those fares that are valid at the time of the flight change [Exchange].

3.3.1 Domestic Voluntary Changes

All VA Domestic fares must be repriced after a change has been made to a ticketed flight/s.

Virgin Australia supports automated exchange whereby a fare component within an itinerary will be reassessed at current levels if one or more of the following occurs to that fare component/s:

- The Booking Class [RBD] changes
- The Fare basis code changes
- The route changes
- The passenger type changes

If there is no change to a fare component in an itinerary, then the historic fare should be retained.

Please refer to the below table for more detail

Before or After Departure	Fare Brand	Change to fare component/s [i.e. change of Fare basis code, RBD, route, pax type]	No change to fare component/s [i.e. no change to Fare basis code, RBD, route, pax type]
	All	Reprice at current fare	Retain historic fare

- When reassessing a ticket, the base fare value may be lower, equal or higher than the original ticket if the new fare conditions are met.
- Please note in the instance that the fare is exchanged to a lower fare, any residual value of the original ticket will be forfeited.

Note:

- Historic fares are those fares that were valid at the time of the original ticket purchase [Reissue]
- Current fares are those fares that are valid at the time of the flight change [Exchange].

3.3.2 International Voluntary changes

All VA International fares must be repriced after a change has been made to a ticketed flight/s. All unflown flights must be repriced.

All fare components have changed
Before Departure of first international flight	Reprice entire itinerary at current fares [exchange]
After Departure of first international flight	Reprice entire itinerary at historic fares [reissue]

When reassessing a ticket, the base fare value may be equal or higher than the original ticket if the new fare conditions are met.

3.4 Accountable Document and Fare validity

Market	Scenario	Validity
Domestic	All scenarios	12 months from the original date of issue. All Travel must be completed within 12 months of the original issue date
International	Unused Exchanged E-Ticket	12 months from the exchanged date of issue
	Partially used E-ticket	Refer to maximum stay rule of purchased fare [most restrictive rule will apply]
All	Unused EMD	12 months from the original date of issue
	Fare	Refer to the maximum stay conditions of the applicable purchased fare. Please note that the most restrictive rule will apply

4.0 General Void, Cancellation/Refund Guidelines

4.1 Void Guidelines

The below bullet points illustrate under what circumstances VA will permit an E-Ticket or EMD to be voided:

- Must be actioned by 2359 on the same day of ticket or EMD issue
- Must be actioned by the same agent, with the same issuing office and IATA and within the same GDS

After a void transaction, reservation must be updated to ensure the itinerary matches the active ticket, or that all unwanted itinerary segments are cancelled.

4.2 Cancellation/Refund Guidelines

The below bullet points are to be used as a guide but do not supersede the fare rules of the applicable fare or the operation of the Australian Consumer Law or any other law:

The passenger type must be applied at time of quoting to ensure the correct fare level is reflected.

VA has pre-defined age restrictions for each passenger type, outlined below on Virgin Australia's Domestic and International Short haul Network. For our International Long-Haul flights operated by our partner airlines, please refer the operating carrier.

Passenger type	Applicable Age

- For more information relating to travelling with children please click here

5.3 Name corrections

Name Corrections are permitted (subject to payment of the service fee outlined in Table 1.2 below) to resolve a genuine error to the Guest's First, Surname, Middle Name and/or Title so that the E-ticket matches the Guest's formal identification (i.e. passport for international travel; Driver's licence and/or passport for Domestic travel).

A name correction does not constitute a transfer of Guest.

A transfer of Guest is considered a Name Change, not Name Correction.

Name Corrections in the same PNR are permitted before ticketing when the Itinerary contains only VA operated flights.

Name Corrections in the same PNR are permitted after ticketing when the following conditions are met:

- Itinerary contains only VA operated flights
- Ticket issued on 795 ticket stock
- E-Ticket coupons must be in OK status
- E-Ticket is NOT partially flown

The new fare can be higher, equal or lower value than the original fare; however, if the fare is lower value, the guest will forfeit any original value that was present on the original ticket.

Please ensure the ticketed fare rules are referred to as a Name change is only permitted in some instances.

Please note if the domestic purchased fare does not permit name changes the guest can upgrade to a fare that does permit name changes provided the applicable fees and fare difference is collected including the name change fee.

6.0 FAQs

Q. What type of fares does Virgin Australia sell?

Virgin Australia sells a variety of fares issued on 795 ticket stock which are issued via all [published] or selected [private] distribution channels. The fares can be one way, return or used to combine end on end itineraries with another Virgin Australia fare. These fares can be found in the GDS, our website or by contacting our Guest Contact Centre.

Q. Can I apply this policy to any fare issued on 795 ticket stock?

No, this policy only relates to Virgin Australia fares issued on 795 ticket stock. Some other airlines allow their fares to be plated to 795 ticket stock but the fare conditions of the other airline will apply. Please refer to the other airline

Q. Does Virgin Australia require an E-Ticket to be issued for all passenger types?

A. Yes, for any ticket that is issued on 795 ticket stock, the passenger type must have an E-Ticket issued. This includes infants without a seat.

Q. Does Virgin Australia permit use of a ticket out of sequential order?

A. No, Virgin Australia requires all tickets to be used in sequential order. E-tickets and EMDs are valid only for transportation as shown on the document. Flight and Ancillary coupons shall be honoured only in sequential order. These documents (E-tickets and EMDs) will not be honoured and will lose their validity, and the fare paid will be forfeited if coupons are not used in the sequence as issued.

Q. Does Virgin Australia permit travel via the point of origin or the same Origin & Destination to appear on the same ticket?

A. No, VA does not permit travel via the point of origin or the same origin & destination on the same ticket. For example, in this scenario SYD-BNE/-SYD-BNE, two tickets must be issued as they are treated as two separate fares that cannot be combined.

Q. Are Australian based agents required to collect GST (UO tax) on wholly Domestic Australian Tickets?

A. Yes, Australian based agents are required to collect GST as a UO tax in addition to base fare and other applicable taxes and surcharges.

Q. Does VA enforce married sector logic?

A. Yes, VA does enforce married sector logic. In certain cases, VA may offer more availability on flight segments if they are sold as part of a connecting flight, rather than as individual flight segments. Additionally, some segments may be restricted for use as part of connecting flights only. When segments are sold together in this way, they are known as married segments. If segments are married, the sectors cannot be cancelled, priced, rebooked, or issue a married segment individually. Married segments allow VA to control inventory, by combining two or more segments in the sell request and processing them as one unit.

Q. Does VA charge booking and service fees?

A. Yes, VA may charge a booking or service fee, please refer to the following policies for more information:

Direct guest payment options and fees
Payment surcharge policy for bookings made via the GDS

Q. What is the difference between a credit and a refund?

A. If a guest wants to cancel their booking, their fare rules will stipulate whether they are entitled to a credit or refund for the value of their booking. Please refer to the fare rules as the refund and credit conditions may differ.

A credit is when a guest retains the value of the ticket [as a credit] for use on a new VA 795 ticket within 12 months from the date of issue. Direct bookings will maintain the credit as a travel credit held in a Travel Bank and GDS third party bookings will maintain the credit as an open ticket.

A refund is when a guest receives a payment for the value of the ticket to their original form of payment.

Q. I notice that Economy Lite fares permit a change but do not permit a credit. How does VA determine the difference between use of credit versus a change when both result in an exchange of a E-ticket?

A. VA consider a change to the booking when the cancellation [old flight], rebook [new flight] and exchange of the E-Ticket occurs on the same day. For any other scenario where an exchange occurs, this will be considered use of credit which is not permitted as per fare rule and subject to ADM.

Q. Why am I not permitted a refund when the fare rule states cancellation is permitted?

A. The cancellation is the action. i.e. cancellation of the seats. If the ticketed fare is entitled to a refund, please refer to the refundability clause to understand if a refund is permitted. The ticketed fare may be permitted to cancel and maintain a credit or cancel and forfeit the fare.
